

"Give a lie twenty-four hours start, and it will take a hundred years to overtake it." (by C.F. Dixon-Johnson, British author of the 1916 book, The Armenians, appalled over the deceitful practices of his book's subject.) Well, we are almost there after close to a century, and let us expose these Armenian fabrications to the fullest extent possible:

ARMENIAN FABRICATIONS

HITLER SAID...BUT WHAT?

.....nothing that supports that which ANCA (Armenian National Committee of America) would like us to believe he said. To find out, please turn the page....

Without delving into the origins of what Hitler may have said or not said, let us see what pro-Armenian authors would like us to believe that he said:

this:

"Who remembers the Armenian massacres today?"<sup>1</sup>

or that:

"Who still talks nowadays of the extermination of the Armenians?"<sup>2</sup>

or this:

"Who today remembers the Armenian extermination?"<sup>3</sup>

or that:

"Who, after all, speaks today of the extermination of the Armenians?"<sup>4</sup>

or this:

"Our strength is in our quickness and our brutality. Ghengis Khan had millions of women killed by his own will and with a gay heart. History sees in him only a great State-builder. What the weak European civilization thinks about me does not matter. I have given the order, and will have everyone shot who utters one word of criticism... Thus for the time being I have sent to the East only my Death's Head units, with the order to kill without pity or mercy all men, women, and children of the Polish race or language. Who still talks nowadays of the extermination of the Armenians?"<sup>5</sup> or : BUT WHAT?

The question arises as to which one of these he really said and in what context, if we want to give any credit to this man? This supposed quotation has been bandied about for almost 100 years now, and it surely would have been nailed down by now. Even the Nuremberg Tribunal in 1945 did not accept a version of a 1939 Hitler speech purportedly containing the remark about the Armenians.<sup>6</sup>

After all is said and done, how can we rely on words that are "supposed to have been uttered by someone whose uniqueness in history has been to lead a great nation off to war, conquest and ruin? How can just ten words summarize a controversial phenomenon of the last century and the beginning of the present one?"<sup>7</sup>

It should be clear by now that the approach above, of course, is to link the "Armenian cause" to that of the Jewish victims of W.W. II, so that public opinion can more readily swallow the idea of a genocide.

It is actually instructive to look a bit more deeply into this whole thing of fabrication as this is another good example of it. As well documented in a recently published book by Şükrü S. Aya, The Genocide of Truth, Istanbul Commerce University Publications, Istanbul, Turkey, 2008, p.366

"Everything written to date has attributed the purported Hitler quote, not to primary sources, but to an article that appeared in the London Times on Saturday, November 24th 1945. The article, entitled "Nazi Germany's Road to War" cites the quote and bases its attribution to Hitler on an address by him to his commanders-in-chief six years earlier on August 22nd 1939, a few days prior to his invasion of Poland. According to the unnamed author of the Times article, the speech had been introduced as evidence during the November 23rd 1945 session of the Nuremberg Tribunal:

'Only thus shall we gain the living space (lebensraum) which we need. Who, after all, speaks today of the annihilation of the Armenians?'

The L-3 document, shown in the inset above, original and translation can be seen at www.cwporter.com/gl3.htm. The certificate dated 25 June 1948 signed by Paul A. Joosten, General Secretary of the International Military Tribunal states that submitted L-3, USA-28 Photostat document submitted as evidence has been withdrawn, in accordance with Rule 10 of the Tribunal but held in the National Archives. (See inset above). What more evidence is needed to prove that the Tribunal has not accepted this forged, fabricated document for consideration."

Mr. Carlos Porter, who found these documents made the following comment: "This translation attempts to retain the style and punctuation of the original, which is not correct in German; full space before colons and commas, not full space before the word. The document contains not one single sharp S(S) a standard letter in the German alphabet. C. Porter."

One then wonders how such a forgery can be cited by the US Congress in repeated Armenian resolutions, and how that purported Hitler's quote can be entered onto the walls of the HOLOCAUST MEMORIAL MUSEUM in Washington, DC, thus damaging its credibility in the eyes of millions of people who visit there?
